Re: Anthropic's infringement of Dundurn's copyrights
My Ref: 33-002

Dear Sir/Madame,

My firm represents Dundurn Press Limited ("Dundurn"). Dundurn, founded in 1972, is one of the largest independent publishing houses in Canada, having published over 3,400 Canadian-authored books ("Works") in numerous genres, from literary and genre fiction, to true crime, memoir and biography, sport, history and public policy that have been recognized across the world for their high quality. For example, the Dundurn Works "Body Blows"¹ published in 2009 and "Find Me Again"² published in 2003 won the prestigious Edgar Allan Poe Award for Best Paperback Original. The Dundurn Work “The Road to Heaven”³ published in 2024 was nominated for the Edgar Allan Poe Award.⁴ The Dundurn Work “The Lost Scroll of the Physician” published in 2021 was a nominee for the Red Cedar Book Award, Hackmatack Children's Choice Book Award and the MYRCA Sundogs Award. The Dundurn Work “In the City of Pigs” was included in the A Globe and Mail Top 100 Best Books of 2022.⁵

Dundurn has also published notable non-fiction Works. For example, Dundurn published “The Underground Railroad Next Stop, Toronto!”⁶ in 2022 which explores Toronto’s role as a destination for thousands of freedom seekers before the American Civil War, “No Ordinary Men: Special Operations Forces Missions in Afghanistan”⁷ which sheds light on the elite warriors of Canada’s Joint Task Force 2 counterterrorist unit that went to Afghanistan to assist Americans with Operation Enduring Freedom, and “Becoming a Somebody”⁸ a biography on one of Canada’s great industrialists of the twentieth century.

Though most of Dundurn’s Works are without US copyright registrations, its Works are nonetheless entitled to US copyright protection under the foreign works exception per the Berne Convention because they were first published outside the United States. See Golan v. Holder, 565 U.S. 302, 314 n.11, 132 S. Ct. 873, 882 (2012) (“requiring registration of U.S. “work[s],” but not foreign works, before an owner may sue for infringement”); Sadhu Singh Hamdad Trust v. Ajit Newspaper Advert. Mktg. & Commc’ns, Inc., 503 F. Supp. 2d 577, 584 (E.D.N.Y. 2007)). According to Canadian law, Dundurn owns valid copyrights which Anthropic infringed as discussed below. See Itar-Tass Russian News Agency v. Russian Kurier, Inc., 153 F.3d 82, 84 (2d Cir. 1998) (“[Foreign] law determines the ownership and essential nature of the copyrights alleged to have been infringed and that United States law determines whether those copyrights have been infringed in the United States and, if so, what remedies are available.”). Attached to this letter is an exemplary list of Dundurn’s copyright protected Works as of Feb. 28, 2025.⁹

A. Anthropic Infringed Dundurn’s Copyright in the Works.

Dundurn learned that Anthropic, PBC (“Anthropic”) has engaged in activities in violation of copyrights in its Works. Dundurn reviewed some of the filings in Andrea Bartz, et al. v.

Anthropic, PBC, No. 3:24-cv-05417-WHA (N.D. Cal.)¹⁰ that show Anthropic’s blatant and expansive infringing activities. For example, Anthropic knowingly and willfully engaged in wholesale copying of notorious shadow libraries of pirated content, such as Pirate Library Mirror (“PiLiMi”) and Library Genesis (“Libgen”), via BitTorrent, and shared the Works in whole or in part with other BitTorrent participants. As noted in the Court’s opinion: (i) Anthropic’s cofounder and CEO Dario Amodei preferred to steal copyrighted works instead of obtaining copies legally to avoid “legal/practice/business slog”; (ii) another cofounder, Ben Mann, downloaded at least five million books from Libgen; and (iii) in 2021, Anthropic downloaded another two million books from PiLiMi, which Anthropic knew had been pirated. Bartz, Doc. #231 at 2-3. Anthropic also admitted to downloading the piracy dataset Books3. See Doc. #225 (Decl. of Jessica A. Gillotte at ¶7). Other documents in the case reveal that Anthropic downloaded the piracy dataset The Pile.

Anthropic used these pirated books to create its own central library of pirated books. See id. at 14. As noted by the Court, Anthropic did not have any entitlement to hold pirated copies of books for its library. See id. at 27. Anthropic’s widescale piracy and infringement thus necessarily resulted in the infringement of Dundurn’s copyright in its Works appearing on LibGen, SciTech and Anna’s Archive (successor to PiLiMi) where over 12,500 instances of pirated copies of Dundurn’s Works were distributed. Notably, the number of instances of a pirated copies is a multiple of the total number of Dundurn works because the piracy sites distribute multiple pirated versions of a work. For example, Anna’s Archive (successor to PiLiMi) distributes 25 different pirated versions of Dundun’s Work “Blood Washing Blood”. According to Anna’s Archive, of the over 12,500 instances of pirated copies of Dundurn’s Works, over 2700 instances originated from Libgen and over 1250 instances originated from SciTech.

¹⁰ Any communications with Dundurn concerning the certified class should be addressed to the undersigned via physical or electronic mail at kculpepper@culpepperip.com.

Anthropic’s use of BitTorrent to download and share copies of Dundurn’s Works, including those pirated Works appearing on PiLiMi (now Anna’s Archive) and Libgen websites, is a clear violation of Dundurn’s exclusive rights under 17 U.S.C. § 106. Libgen has been listed for years in the annual Notorious Markets List of the Office of the United States Trade Representative. Thus, it is rather apparent that Anthropic’s infringement of Dundurn’s Works was deliberate, calculated, willful and knowing.

B. Anthropic distributed pirated copies of Dundurn’s Works with Altered and/or Falsified the Copyright Management Information (CMI).

Digital copies of Dundurn’s Works include CMI protected under 17 U.S.C. §1202, such as the title of the Work and a digital copyright notice. Shadow libraries falsify and alter CMI on the digital files of the Works to “brand” the pirated copy. For example, Anna’s Archive distributed a pirated copy of Dundurn’s Work “Blood Washing Blood”, with the CMI of the title altered to include “Anna’s Archive” within the digital file title.¹¹ In contrast to Kadrey where the §1202 claims were dismissed because “There are no facts to support the allegation that LLaMA ever distributed the plaintiffs’ books”, Kadrey v. Meta Platforms, Inc., No. 23-cv-03417-VC, 2023 LX 12120, at *5 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 20, 2023), Dundurn will prove that Anthropic automatically began to share copies of Dundurn’s Works (such as “Blood Washing Blood”) containing the false and altered CMI with other BitTorrent users, all in violation of 17 U.S.C. § 1202 by records of infringement of copyrighted Works from Internet protocol addresses used by Anthropic. Anthropic’s CEO statement of his explicit intent to “steal”, show that Anthropic also had actual knowledge that other participants on the BitTorrent network would use the altered CMI of the file titles to obtain infringing copies.

Anthropic disagrees with the Kadrey Court's conclusion that §1202(b) does not apply where the underlying act of infringement is a fair use. See Kadrey, 2025 LX 270660, at *2 (N.D. Cal. June 27, 2025). The Kadrey Court's conclusion is in tension with the Ninth Circuit's acknowledgment that a violation of §1202 is an altogether different violation than copyright infringement. See Polar Bear Prods., Inc. v. Timex Corp., 384 F.3d 700, 719 (9th Cir. 2004). The Kadrey Court's conclusion is also against the weight of District Court decisions that the copyright registration requirement and the safe harbors in §512 do not apply to §1202 claims. See Diamondback Indus. v. Repeat Precision, LLC, 2019 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 193637, 2019 WL 5842756, *2 (N.D. Tex. Nov. 7, 2019) ("A DMCA action under Section 1202(b) is not an action for copyright infringement, but rather for the improper removal or alteration of CMI."); Recif Res., LLC v. Juniper Capital Advisors, L.P., No. H-19-2953, 2020 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 175431, at *28-29 (S.D. Tex. Sep. 24, 2020) (concluding that because a DMCA action is not an action for copyright infringement, no prior registration is required); After II Movie, LLC et al. v. WideOpenWest Finance, LLC, No. 21-cv-01901-DDD-MEH, (D. Col. Mar. 13, 2024) (Defendant's §512 affirmative defense cannot apply to DMCA claims under §1202).

In addition to its sharing of altered and falsified titles, it appears that Anthropic actively engaged in alteration and falsification of CMI by removing the copyright notice from titles of Works downloaded from piracy websites when it converted the pirated books into training data. Notably, Anthropic was careful to not publicly reveal that it used piracy data sets in training its models to conceal its infringing activities.

Thus, at a minimum, Anthropic has violated 17 U.S.C. §§ 1202(a)(2) and 1202(b)(2), inter alia, by sharing copies of Dundurn's Works containing false and altered CMI in the form of titles, and violated 17 U.S.C. § 1202(b)(1), inter alia, by removing CMI in the form of copyright notices from Dundurn's Works.

C. Anthropic's Infringement of Dundurn's Works Falls Outside the Fair Use Framework

Fundamentally, Dundurn has not authorized Anthropic to copy its works from shadow libraries or use its works. As the Bartz Court noted, "...piracy of otherwise available copies is inherently, irredeemably infringing even if the pirated copies are immediately used for the transformative use and immediately discarded." Bartz, 787 F. Supp. 3d at 1025 (N.D. Cal. 2025). Although the Court in Kadrey, 2025 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 121064 (N.D. Cal. June 25, 2025) found fair use, this was only because the plaintiffs in Kadrey "asserted only two types of market harm—that users of Llama can reproduce text from their books, and that Meta's copying harmed the market for licensing copyrighted materials to companies for AI training," but "never so much as mentioned” the potential harm caused by market dilution, but even the Court noted “the notion that allowing companies like Meta to copy their works to train products like Llama would inevitably cause the market for plaintiffs’ works to be flooded with similar works.” Kadrey, Dkt. No. 598, at *33. In dicta, the Kadrey Court recognized that market dilution would likely be “more pronounced” in “[t]he market for certain nonfiction works—for example, books about how to take care of your garden—could be greatly diminished by the ability of LLMs to produce books on that topic.” Id. at 29. The Kadrey Court also recognized the harm for a market for biographies.¹²

Dundurn’s business operates in this very market. For example, Dundurn publishes titles such as “Parenting Your Parents”¹³, “Your Place or Mine”¹⁴ and “I don’t do Disability and Other Lies I’ve Told Myself”¹⁵ that provide self-help in the challenges of the human experience. Dundurn publishes biographies such as “Becoming a Somebody” discussed above. As purveyors of biographies, self-help guides and advice on navigating relationships and similar dynamics, the Kadrey Court recognized the acute effect that dilution would have in such industries. Accordingly, Anthropic’s training of its LLMs based upon infringing copies of Dundurn’s Works is not and cannot be excused by fair use.

As set forth above, Anthropic is liable to Dundurn for copyright infringement arising from its downloading and distribution of pirated copies of the Works and use of pirated copies to train its AI LLMs, as well as distribution of pirated copies with false and altered CMI, and alteration and falsification of CMI of the Works. Under 17 U.S.C. §1203(c)(3)(B), Dundurn is entitled to an award of up to $25,000 in statutory damages for each CMI violation. Dundurn is entitled to actual damages and Anthropic’s profits for each of Anthropic’s willful infringements of Dundurn’s Works under 17 U.S.C. §504(c)(3)(B).

D. The Bartz class action settlement is wholly inadequate

The United States is obligated under the Berne Convention to treat foreign copyright holders equally to how it treats US copyright holders. See Golan v. Holder, 565 U.S. 302, 308, 132 S. Ct. 873, 878 (2012). Nonetheless, the Bartz class action settlement completely fails to provide any relief to foreign copyright holders whose Works were pirated by Anthropic. This failure is stunning since a substantial number of the books in the shadow libraries pirated by

Anthropic are non-US works.¹⁶ Dundurn will not opt into a settlement that provides nothing for Anthropic's piracy of thousands of its Works.

Notwithstanding Anthropic's clear violations, Dundurn would be willing to resolve this matter amicably and fully resolve allegations of all Dundurn Works if Anthropic complies with the following:

- (a) Provide a complete list of Dundurn's Works in Anthropic's possession and describe the nature and extent of Anthropic's use of such Works to date¹⁷; and
- (b) Cease display, creation of derivative works, distribution, and other use of Dundurn's Works.

To effectuate the foregoing, contact Dundurn's counsel by December 29, 2025, indicating Anthropic's agreement to comply with the terms set forth above and the requested information. Once we evaluate the data, we can discuss an appropriate monetary component of an amicable resolution. Should we fail to receive a timely response, we shall assume that Anthropic does not intend voluntarily and amicably to redress and resolve its conduct, and we shall act to protect and enforce Dundurn's rights by all available means.

Until the matter is fully resolved, please make sure all individuals under Anthropic's employment, contract, or control preserve evidence relevant to this matter including, but not limited to, log records of the IP addresses used to download copies of content from piracy websites, email communications related to Anthropic's efforts to use BitTorrent to obtain copies of content, and any DMCA notices sent to Anthropic or Anthropic's Internet service provider received and forwarded to Anthropic. Please make sure all such individuals understand they have an affirmative duty not to alter, conceal, destroy or discard, and so to maintain, protect and make available, all potential evidence.

This letter is not intended as any manner of admission or as a complete statement of all relevant facts, rights, remedies, and defenses, all of which are expressly reserved without limitation or waiver.

¹⁶ For example, Anna's Archive includes over 8,000,000 Chinese books, 2,750,000 Russian books, 2,500,000 French books, 400,000 Japanese books... See <https://annas-archive.org/search?q=>

¹⁷ According to the FAQs of the settlement website, Anthropic produce a list of 7 million files it downloaded from shadow libraries. Accordingly, Anthropic can easily ascertain the number of pirated copies of Dundurn Works it downloaded.

We trust that we shall receive your immediate response consistent with the foregoing.

Very truly yours,
